Night wild: Photograms of Animals made in the Wild

For over 35 years, I have traveled alone to remote wild places, photographing animals from the smallest insect to the largest whale. Each encounter leaves me in wonder and awe. I seek to transmit the same sense of wonder and awe to my audience through my artwork.

I create one-of-a-kind, life-sized photograms of wild animals directly onto light-sensitive photographic paper at night in the field. A photogram is a photographic print made without a camera or negative. Working without a camera for the past decade has opened an entirely new creative world, deepening my connection to and
